MRS. CASE TO BE ARRAIGNED

District Attorney Files Information Charging Murder; Still Nervous.

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 23.—Mrs. Ray H. Case, formerly of El Paso, who has been in St. Vincent's hospital since the killing of her husband here Thursday, still is in a highly nervous state.

Mrs. Case will be arraigned in the district court Monday to answer an information filed by the district attorney, charging murder, the degree not being specified.

No preliminary hearing before a justice of peace will be held. The district attorney's office made a careful survey of the apartment where the shooting occurred, with numerous photographs, and while no statement is made officially, it is believed that the state will hold that Case was shot in the back of the head while lying on the bed. Mrs. Case has claimed that she killed her husband when he threatened her with a revolver. A revolver was found lying on the floor near the bed.

A. R. Resehen and A. M. Edwards have been retained as attorneys to defend Mrs. Case, it was stated today.

Case was in El Paso only three or four days ago, returning home from a trip east, where he underwent an operation, according to W. M. McCoy, of Hotel McCoy. Case told Mr. McCoy that he never felt better in his life and that he believed he was going to get relief from a stomach trouble that had been afflicting him. Mr. McCoy had never seen him when he did not appear normal and had never heard, he says, that Case was occasionally out of his mind.

Case has a brother, Paul Case, of El Paso, who left yesterday for Santa Fe to look after his brother's remains and private affairs.

Case was killed at Santa Fe, 10 YEARS DEMING RESIDENT.

Deming, N. M., Feb. 23.—R. H. Case, who was shot and killed by his wife in Santa Fe, N. M., was well known here, having resided in Deming about ten years up to near a year ago. He had a brother residing here, Paul Case, a ranch owner and in the service car business. The latter went to Santa Fe. The first information of the killing came by long distance to Chris Keith, of the Deming Mercantile company. Keith called William J. Hines, member of the state corporation commission, that R. H. Case had been shot by his wife.

Keith here brought no information as to whether Case and his wife had trouble here. The deceased was in the real estate business here, dealing principally in state lands.

EL PASO SCENES ON THE SCREEN

First Presentation of Paso-graph Picture Makes Decided Impression.

Paso-graph's feature picture, "The Spreading Evil," was given its first El Paso presentation Saturday morning at 9:30 at the Gremlin theater to a private audience, which included the El Pasoans in the film, public officials and prominent citizens generally.

The picture was made in El Paso—all save the sea scenes and some of these are so closely interwoven with El Paso scenes that one would think El Paso a seacoast city.

The film is well produced, with beautiful stage settings, characters splendidly acted, and is full of interest from first to last. Not only will it be of interest to El Pasoans because it is an El Paso made picture, but it has a gripping story and is full of dramatic situations with strong climaxes.

To the beauty of the interior details much credit is due to Miss Ruth Morley of El Paso, who gathered the story of the picture, and supervised the properties and supervised the settings. The real opens with a picture of Nat Williams, president of the Paso-graph company, bowing his greetings to the audience; then is shown a panoramic view of El Paso, with the city, a sermon with punch against the commercialization of medicinal discoveries for the relief of mankind.

The story is woven around a German scientist who discovers a remedy for a bilious incurable disease and allows himself to be inveigled by an American drug dealer into commercializing the proposition. War comes on and the scientist's son in America as the father's agent, is stricken with the disease. His father's effort to reach him by submarine to save his life results in the timely dramatic production.

Many El Pasoans and many El Paso scenes are shown. The free dispensary of "Dr. Carey," an American (intended to be the suffering poor, is the Pease undertaking building. The "modest home" of the scientist is the A. P. Coles residence. Max Moya's home in Kern place is the country home of the American promoter, with the sea in the background. The lobby of Hotel Paso del Norte affords a setting for several scenes and the balcony and court at the Elks' club are used for a "cultural scene" in which a number of El Pasoans take part.

At a banquet scene, at which the doctors of his home town honor the German scientist on his discovery of his great specific, among the El Pasoans readily recognizable in the picture are: Dr. Howard Thompson, Dr. J. A. Rawlings, R. Emmett Hines and Dr. R. L. Anderson.

In the kitchen of the clerk in the American drug trust's headquarters is also recognized the classic countenance of Mr. Hines.

Miss Marion Calman as the bride.

Extra Session In Arizona Is Being Talked

Good Roads and Question Of Soldiers' Votes Are Urged As Reasons.

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 23.—Though denial was given a report that a special session of the legislature is imminent, later advice at the capitol indicate that Gov. Hunt at least has the suggestion in mind. This latest tip comes in connection with some additional legislation wanted by the good roads advocates, who have asked the governor to include their cause in his call, in the event the legislature is summoned in special session.

The main feature is understood to concern the manner in which the Arizona soldiers at Camp Funston and Kearney may be given the ballot this fall. There are about 4000 of these troops in the state, and it is probable that number could be reached. Gov. Hunt also is said to have some intention toward alteration of the land laws through which the state now is securing so large an income, possibly with an eye to holding a part of the acreage for coming generations.

There is a charming scene with the star in one of the scenes, and later Miss Calman, Helen Harding, Gladys Mueller and Dorothy Volkmann are recognized as the charming attendants of the bride, all beautifully attired in the gowns designed by Miss Morris.

SHANNON BOYS YAEGER CANYON

Pays $125,000 for Property and Spends $75,000 Developing.

Jerome, Ariz., Feb. 23.—The Shannon Copper company has paid $125,000 for the Yaeger Canyon mine, and in addition has spent $75,000 in development work that ended in a determination to take up the option. The ore body at a depth of 1100 feet is reported to average 20 percent copper. Electric pumps and electric hoisting equipment will be installed at an early date as possible, and president N. H. Amster, of the Shannon company, expects to start heavy production by June. A considerable quantity of good ore is being isolated from the development work, but is not being shipped.

It is claimed that the Lewisohn interests have given the company the prospect stock to give them control of the Calumet and Jerome property, taking the holdings of president G. W. Avery, George H. Avery and Joe Jensen, at something better than $5 a share. J. Parke Channing is expected here soon, for an examination of the property.

E. P. S. W. AND S. P. HIGH OFFICIALS ON INSPECTION

A special train of three private cars, bearing high officials of the El Paso and Southern Railway, arrived in El Paso at 12:30 p. m. Saturday from Tucson. In private car 1914 were T. M. Schumacher, president of the El Paso & Southern Railway, and Garnett King, general passenger agent of the road. In private car Santa Rosa were G. F. Hawkins, vice president, and manager of the E. P. & S. W., and J. L. Campbell, chief engineer of the road. In Southern Pacific private car No. 39 were William Sprague, president of the Southern Pacific system, and W. R. Scott, vice president and general manager of the system.

The officials of the two roads made a joint trip over the E. P. & S. W. from Tucson to El Paso. Mr. Schumacher left the party here Saturday to return to Chicago. Others in the party are to return from here to San Francisco, with the exception of Mr. King, who leaves Sunday for Chicago to attend a meeting of railway officials in military service.

T. P. AGENT NICHOLSON IS BACK FROM STAY IN EAST

L. D. Nicholson, who was freight agent for the Texas & Pacific here, but was transferred to the east when the railways were ordered by the government to cease operations, has returned from Texarkana. The reversal of this order is responsible for Mr. Nicholson's return to El Paso. Mrs. Nicholson accompanied him.

J. A. Chilton and W. R. Daniels, of the local division office of the Texas & Pacific, have returned from a business trip to the southern part of Arizona. They report business conditions excellent in that section.

PRYOR AND FUQUA ADDED TO ROSWELL COWMEN'S SPEAKERS

Two addresses of interest have been added to the program of the Panhandle and Southwestern Stockmen's association convention at Roswell next March, according to secretary W. L. Ammonett. Col. Ike T. Pryor, of San Antonio, president of the National livestock association, will talk, and H. H. Fuqua, prominent banker and cattleman, of Amarillo, Texas, will also speak. Mr. Fuqua is a member of the executive board of the Panhandle association.

"The addition of these two speakers will add much to the interest of the convention," said Mr. Ammonett. "Both are well posted men, and good speakers."

"COME HOME," BADGES SAY.

Orange colored badges with the words, "Come Home, El Paso, 1918," will be used by the El Paso delegates to the Panhandle and Southwestern Stockmen's association. The first badges made their appearance Saturday morning.

Foodstuffs by manufacturers of food products," said the report. Although it does not authorize a rationing system for consumers in the language of the report, it would permit the president to limit the amount of any given product which may be shipped into a particular district delivered to a particular distributor.

AUSTRIA'S PUBLICATION OF POLISH NOTE ANGRERS GERMANY

London, Eng., Feb. 23.—The publication by the Vienna official news agency of the Polish manifesto reflecting upon Germany has given great offense, says the Zurich correspondent of Reuters limited. According to the Munich Neueste Nachrichten, the German ambassador at Vienna has been instructed to demand an explanation.

The newspaper adds that the reading of the manifesto in the Reichsrath gave immunity to its publication but that it was a piece of gross stupidity on the part of the official agency to publish it broadcast.

IRON CAP SHIPS 138 CARS MONTH

Opens New Ore Body on 1000 Level Running to 35 Percent Copper.

Globe, Ariz., Feb. 23.—On the 1000 level, the Iron Cap has proved the existence of an ore body 50 feet wide, sampling 6 percent copper, but with streaks that run up to 35 percent. Drifting has been started both east and west on the ledge. Ore shipments for the past month were 138 cars, the top record. Sinking has been resumed on the company's Williams shaft, below the 1100 level.

Arizona Commercial has struck good ore at 1500 feet, its deepest workings, in continuation of a body that has been stoped above that level. Ore running several hundred dollars to the ton in silver and 38 percent copper has been brought to Globe from the property of the Manifest Copper and Silver company in El Capitan.

Drilling has been started on the 1000 level of the Iron Cap mine in Los Gatos, about a mile from Miami. The corporation has 1000 acres, which it has leased to the management of C. E. Hart, an experienced porphyry man from the Elly Nevada field.

Installs Mine Block System.

At a cost of $48,000, the Inspiration company is installing an automatic block system throughout its mines. Every entrance to the mine is to be protected by semaphores and lights, as well as every short section of the main trackage. The change is expected to conduce to speed in ore hauling, as well as to betterment of safety conditions.

ARIZONA MINES BUREAU ISSUES OIL STOCK WARNING

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 23.—The Arizona state bureau of mines has issued official warning, over the purchase of oil stocks, calling attention to the necessity for the use of common sense in making such purchases. The bureau suggests that purchases be not made unless the buyer is satisfied that the stock is genuine and shows no surface indications. As a well known fact, the bureau advises, "Don't invest in any oil company that makes definite promises on what it is going to find, for you have nothing to lose if the prospect fails and it can make no honest promises. Don't invest blindly."

Outlaws Now Afoot.

So closely did they push them, that the outlaws on the evening of Feb. 10 abandoned their last horse, and are now afoot somewhere up on the high peaks and ridges of the snowcapped mountains north of Apache station on the Southwestern railroad. Each day brings fresh men into the chase.

Six stalwart Apache trailers from the San Carlos reservation and a party with bloodhounds from Tyrone left here this week under the direction of Sheriff Wheeler to "cut" the foothills of the mountains to make sure the outlaws have been driven to the south.

One day this week a riderless horse was seen in a gulch two miles north of Apache by a scout. A man was seen in the distance, but he was not seen after securing the horse, and he disappeared into the brush. The scout, who was with him, was apparently hiding. The rifle of the trail was very quickly brought to the shoulders, the order rang out "Throw up your hands and do it now." Followed by a shot as a man jumped up, which plowed up the dirt about an inch above the man's head, and he splashed dirt all over him. The man, who came up to his head high in the air and the first tragedy of the great drive was avoided. It has not yet been determined what the man was doing in this gulch alone.

Alphonse in the Hunt.

Last night signals were seen in some of the great gaps in the mountains to the north, and at 10:30 p. m. the search light of an airplane was seen floating over the mouth of the Skeleton canyon to the southwest of Apache, some seven or eight miles. What these signals signify, none here can determine. Hunters stationed along the Chiricahua basin can read. The airplane is being used by the army.

Whether these outlaws will be run down, time only will tell. Meantime the great drive is still on.

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. Mustard does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tender skin.

Gently massage Mustard into the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Mustard for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion of the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

ARIZONA RICH IN COPPER

Heavy Shipments Made From Old Bonanza Mines at Tombstone.

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 23.—Manganese is becoming one of the material products of the state, according to official reports compiled for the past year. The Geological service estimates that for the year were shipped from Arizona 22,000 tons of ore containing from 15 to 40 percent of manganese and 14,000 tons of lesser value. The old bonanza mines at Tombstone have made heavy shipments of the richer ore, while the ore also has been found in large quantities in workings of copper mines at Bisbee. In other localities, particularly in the Superior section, manganese is found in immense quantities, but usually of grade lower than the 15 percent desired, needing concentration, for which works are not available.

Ore running 13 percent copper and 42 percent of silver has been cut in the Black Prince mine, 40 miles west of Tucson, near the Quitova mountains. The strike was in a blind lead, 80 feet below the surface, while following a surface cropping. The property is one under bond to assistant postmaster E. W. Oakley, of Tucson, J. B. Johnson and Patrick Flynn.

North Star Group Bonded.

A. A. Worsley has given $100,000 in bonds and $100,000 in cash to the North Star group in Twin Butte district, for a sum said to be $50,000. The mine is one of the first copper properties worked in this locality, located 30 years ago. At the bottom of a 114-foot shaft, two samples of ore were taken, one showing 15 percent. For a while the mine was worked by the Pioneer Smelting company.

Plans are being made for extensive working of the old Red Cloud silver mine in Yuma county, a 500-ton mill has been built and $140,000 spent in preparation for production. It is under charge of E. R. Curtis, representing an eastern company.

IS ONLY COPPER LEACHING WORKS IN NORTHERN ARIZ.

Kingman, Ariz., Feb. 23.—The only copper leaching works in northern Arizona are being operated near the Emerald Lake Copper company, which is producing 100,000 pounds of copper cathodes a day and which is to have a ton a day production very soon. The mine has capacity for producing 100,000 tons a day of ore said to average 5 percent. The company is headed by A. J. Bradley, with R. C. Jacobson as manager.

"Get Up, Dead Men, and Fight," Yells Survivor; They Get Up and Win

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 23.—To fight like super human beings and to achieve the seemingly impossible are requisites for Americans in winning the war. Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, and head of the government's war certificate and thrift stamp campaign, declared in a statement published here today.

Mr. Vanderlip cited the story of a French soldier who stood alone but unafraid after an explosion had seemed to have killed all his comrades. Seeing the enemy approaching, he cried out, "Get up, dead men, and fight." And his stunned and wounded comrades, electrified by the cry, stumbled to their feet and repulsed the attack.

Purchase of thrift stamps will not lessen the buying capacity of individuals, Mr. Vanderlip said, but by building character will teach how to spend wisely.
